FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The independent films, NAKED HORROR: Art House Edition and PSYCHO KILLER ATTACK!, of Gothic Films / Ethician Arts, have won three prestigious Bronze Telly Awards in the Entertainment and Visual Effects categories. NAKED HORROR: Art House Edition has won Telly Awards for Visual Effects and Entertainment and PSYCHO KILLER ATTACK! has won a Telly Award in the Entertainment category. Both movies are produced by Gothic Films, an independent movie studio based in Huntsville, TX, which is owned and operated by Huntsville business leader, George H. Russell. (www.gothicfilms.biz)

"The Telly Awards are real feathers in our cap," said Carlo Rodriguez, writer and director of both NAKED HORROR: Art House Edition and PSYCHO KILLER ATTACK!. "Past winners include ESPN, NBC Universal, and CBS Television. Now, that list includes Gothic Films and George H. Russell. On behalf of our entire crew, we offer our sincere thanks to The Telly Awards." Gothic Films/Ethician Arts also produced the award-winning feature film, LONG PIG and the award-winning short film MANIAC BLOODBATH. For more information, call Carlo Rodriguez at 936-291-2860.

About The Telly Awards

About Naked Horror

Naked horror takes on a new meaning as a young woman finds her body and soul stripped bare when her dreams are invaded by a mysterious psychic force. Cursed with dreams of blood and mayhem, beautiful Priya faces a shapeless evil whenever she closes her eyes. Desperate, she tries to avoid sleep but soon she finds herself slowly going insane. Feeling isolated from everyone in her physical world, Priya turns to the Internet where she connects with other people from around the world who are experiencing the same thing. Together, they soon realize that the images they see at night are much more than dreams - they are windows into Hell itself. Faced with this evil supernatural threat, Priya vows to fight back somehow and escape from her naked horror.
